

VACATIONING IN AMERICA?

TOP REASONS TO CHOOSE YOUR AUTO INSURANCE WISELY

So, you've decided to explore America, solo, with family or with friends. You are in good company with the many Americans each year that push past their comfortable home boundaries, braving highways and byways seeking out a vacation in America's varied, popular, and not so popular, travel destinations.

COUNTRYWIDE ADVENTURE

Some trips are labelled, 'road trips', with much time spent driving and enjoying the scenic view. Others vacations require only a short drive to the airport, with perhaps a car rental at our destination point to take us around the city or town we plan to visit.

Approximately 3 out of 4 domestic trips in America are for leisure purposes, with visiting family, shopping, visiting friends, fine dining and beaches topping the list for most popular reason for leisure travel. Sport specific holidays such as golf, skiing and outdoor recreation are also common. As well, cultural exhibits such as museums, art galleries and festivals take people countrywide.

Americans plan all types of trips, near and far, and that is the number 1 reason why it is important to carefully choose your auto insurance - nationwide adventure awaits!

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Weather can significantly affect your travel plans, and safety. Seasonal weather can vary significantly within America, from extreme heat, to sub zero cold climates, and everything in between. Extreme weather conditions like tornadoes and lightning are not always something you can avoid, even when you check the forecast in advance of your vacation.

In the event of extreme weather, take immediate precautions to avoid injury or even fatal consequences by staying off the roads, waterways, taking cover, or even cutting your plans short to return home if advance warning allows time enough for a safe return.

Auto insurance should ensure you will be in good hands in the event of a road collision, or auto occurrence as a result of climate or weather conditions.

CRIME AND AUTO THEFT

Damage to vehicles due to break in, and auto theft, is on the rise in America. The top five states for SUV/CUV thefts during 2010 - 2013 were California (3,531), Florida (1,897), Michigan (1,834), Texas (1,686) and New York (1,577). While we need to take precautions that will minimize the potential of becoming a victim, auto insurance chosen wisely will give us the peace of mind to know we will be covered in the event of crime or auto theft.

Comparing Costs for auto insurance from a variety of providers through Insurance Quote Depot is a great way to ensure you get the right type of coverage, at the best price. While basic coverage, mandated by each state is essential to have when driving a vehicle, you may want to consider increasing your coverage when you plan to travel outside of state, or for extended vacations where your auto insurance needs might change.

Plan ahead, ensuring your insurance covers all your needs for life coverage, your home and property assets, health care coverage during a holiday, and particularly, auto insurance for getting safely to and from your destination.

Travelling can be a terrific way to relax, reconnect with family, to enjoy the coast to coast beauty of America, and certainly a great way to create memories. So get out there, and have a great, safe, adventure in America!
